December, 2019

Dear Priests, Deacons and Parish Staff,

Pornography is detrimental to both the physical and spiritual life of each individual as well as the greater community. As previously communicated in Archbishop Chaput’s letter to you, he is asking all parishes to celebrate Safe Haven Sunday on the weekend of February 22-23, 2020. This weekend will be an opportunity to bring to light the issue of Pornography, and to equip marriages and families with the tools they need to restore their homes to safe havens.

A critical component of Safe Haven Sunday is offering the book CONFIDENT for parishioners to pick up after all Masses. In addition to aiding parents in fostering fruitful conversation in their home, this book invites parishioners to join a seven-day opt-in email campaign that provides short, practical videos which will help parents protect their children from on-line dangers.

Resources for the implementation are provided by our partners at Covenant Eyes. Order copies of the book Confident for your parish by clicking HERE. The order form is due January 24, 2020.

For additional information and resources for Safe Haven Sunday click HERE.

If you have questions about Safe Haven Sunday, please feel free to contact me directly at the Office for Life and Family at 215-587-5661.

Yours in Christ,

Steven Bozza
Director, Office for Life and Family
Archdiocese of Philadelphia

    Bishop John McIntyre